SEEK RETURN ON TAXES

Bill Introduced To Pay Counties For Loss Of Levy On U. S. Forest

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington under date of May 6 says:

The government, says Representative Colmer, Democrat of Mississippi, should repay California counties annually to replace tax revenues from lands acquired for reforestation purposes.

He said the government has acquired 115,529 acres at a cost of $627,200 in the state.

Colmer has introduced a bill to require the federal government to pay annually to each county 3 per cent of the actual purchase price of land acquired in that county under the reforestation and Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenancy Acts, with the provision that half these payments would be returned to the government whenever the counties' receipts from timber sales in subsequent years exceeded the guaranteed 3 per cent minimum.

His bill would also cancel the existing law's provision restricting use of receipts from the reforested lands to expenditures for roads and schools and would permit distribution to the counties "in such manner as the state legislature may direct."

Below is Colmer's tabulation of reforestation purchases in three california counties showing the number of acres acquired and the cost. Colmer said he assumed land approved for purchase on June 30, 1938, had been acquired. The tabulation does not include lands bought under the tenancy program

	Acreage Bought	Cost
El Dorado county	9,474	$ 62,020.58
Nevada County	19,549	48,717.74
Sierra county	64,982	95,185.19
Total	94,005	$205,923.51

FRED N. HOSKING TAKEN BY DEATH ON FRIDAY EVENING

Many Friends Join In Last Tribute On Monday At Funeral Services For Engineer-Manager Of Water District, Member Of City Council

Fred N. Hosking, engineer-manager of El Dorado Irrigation District and a member of the Placerville City Council, died on Friday evening at his home.

Many of his hundreds of friends in Placerville and the rural county joined Monday afternoon in attending the funeral services which were held from Memory Chapel.

FRED N. HOSKING, engineer-manager of El Dorado Irrigation District and a member of the Placerville City Council, for whom funeral services were held from Memory Chapel on Monday afternoon.

The Rev. John Dunlop, a boyhood friend of Mr. Hosking, conducted the last rites. Burial was at Union Cemetery. There was a profusion of beautiful floral pieces attesting the high regard held for Mr. Hosking in the community.

Mr. Hosking's death followed a period of several years of failing health during which he had borne his illness with uncommon fortitude and had often carried on his official duties under circumstances which would have proven too much for a heart less brave.

Despite his illness, he was never heard to complain and always carried on his work with a courageous spirit marked by a courteous and friendly consideration of the welfare of others.

Although Mr. Hosking had been reported as not being so well during recent weeks, he had been able to attend to business affairs on Friday and during the late afternoon joined Mrs. Hosking at the high school baseball game at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr. Memorial Park.

At home about seven-thirty that evening he began to have a violent headache and when home remedies failed to relieve him, a physician was called. Mr. Hosking had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage and passed away later in the evening as the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

Fred N. Hosking was a native of Placerville, born nearly fifty years ago this month, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hosking. His father was engaged in mining.

Attending the local grade school and the high school, Mr. Hosking

NORTH SIDER FOUND DEAD

Brain Hemorrhage Fatal For Man Reported In Brawl Saturday Night

A coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday night at the courthouse to determine the cause of death of James Rogers, 33, who was found dead near the Hart mine, near Georgetown, Sunday morning.

According to information received by Coroner A. J. Orelli, Rogers had figured in a brawl at Georgetown Saturday night in the role of a peace-maker, when he entered the fight for the purpose of separating the participants. He also was said to have been drinking considerably during the evening.

According to Dr. A. A. McKinnon, an autopsy examination showed that Rogers died of a brain hemorrhage and it was not known whether there might be any connection between his death and taking part in the brawl or between his death and his drinking.

He was found dead at daylight by friends with whom he was staying at the Hart mine.

It was said that an examination of the body indicated that he had passed away not very long before dawn.

Rogers is reported to have been employed some time ago at the Rosencranz mine, at Garden Valley, and records of that firm indicate his parents resided at Medford, Oregon, at that time. It is reported his people have moved recently to Sacramento.

Following the meeting, he will spend a short time in Michigan before returning to Placerville.

Mr. Berry had returned on Friday afternoon from Portland, Ore., where as president of the Western Pine Association, he had attended an executive committee meeting of that body.

A suit for $10,708.05 damages was filed in the Sacramento County Superior Court Saturday by Katherine and J. S. Hopkins against Frank and Jesse Snook. The action is for damages resulting from injuries in a recent auto crash.

MAN BURNED IN CABIN FIRE

Two Buildings Destroyed Sunday Afternoon At El Dorado

Joe Burns, aged about 50 years, received third degree burns on the back, face and hands and was removed to Placerville Sanitorium in a serious condition following a fire which destroyed two cabins at El Dorado Sunday afternoon.

Origin of the fire, which destroyed buildings belonging to Earl Pollock, was not immediately determined. The blaze was controlled by the state division of forestry crew from Mt. Danaher and was confined to the immediate vicinity of the cabins.

Officials have been unable to learn from Burns why he was unable to get away from the flames, although he has indicated in conversations with his doctor that he was out of the cabin at one time and returned to the burning structure in an attempt to save some clothing.

Third degree burns are of a very serious degree, the term being used to classify burns of a type where the skin is burned from the flesh.

It was indicated Monday morning that Br. Burns may be removed to the county hospital if his condition permits.

Carsten Takes Leg On Plaque

Camino Shooter Scores Perfect Mark Sunday In 16-Yard Event

Ernest Carsten, Jr., of Camino, had a perfect score in the 16-yard event at Sunday's shoot at the Sacramento range, and for the fifth time has his name engraved on the trophy plaque.

The plaque is taken out at each registered shoot and the high men in each shoot has his name engraved on the plaque. At the end of the twentieth shoot, the plaque is to be presented to the gunner who has his names on it the most times.

Carsten had previously won the honor four times.

Ernie is looking forward to the state championship shoot at Del Monte on May 25, 26 and 27, when he will defend his sixteen-yard state championship and also his handicap state championship and see what additional laurels he can acquire.

MAN BREAKS BACK IN 15-FOOT FALL AT CAMINO PLANT

Karl Kohkolheded, of San Francisco, a special technician temporarily employed by the Michigan-California Lumber Company at Camino, is a patient at Placerville Santtorium for the treatment of a broken back, suffered in a 15-foot fall to a concrete floor.

Kohkolheded was working Friday evening in the boiler room at the plant 15 feet above the floor, when he took hold of a valve with a monkey wrench. Either the valve yielded unexpectedly or the wrench slipped and the workman, taken by surprise, lost his balance and fell, landing on his back.

Attending physicians report that two vertebrae were fractured and that the fracture has been reduced very satisfactorily.

County Picnic On Saturday

School Superintendent Reports Field Day Had 300 Participants

The annual county picnic, held Saturday at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park, was carried off as scheduled and all appeared to enjoy the day, according to county School Superintendent K. W. McCoy.

It was estimated that as many as three hundred chidren of the county took part in the events of the day and there were seven softball games in progress at one time.

The events of the track meet were concluded during the morning and Mr. McCoy said Monday that a compilation of the results will probably be available for the paper on Tuesday.

The picnic was without two features usually associated with the event. The outdoor girl contest has been postponed until later in the year and the "bean feed" usually served to supplement the picnic lunches, was abandoned this year.

Edwin R. Harris Rites On Tuesday Morning

Funeral services for Edwin R. Harris, who died Saturday at San Francisco, will be held Tuesday morning at that city from the Mission Dolores Church, where a requiem mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. The body is in the care of the Gantner, Felder Kenny chapel, at 1965 Market Street.

Mr. Harris was a son of Charles E. and Amy Harris and a brother of Thomas J. and Jack Harris and of Mrs. W. A. Finch.

The above statistical information was contained in a brief announcement of the death in the Sunday Examiner, which requested that Sacramento and Placerville papers copy the report. We learn that Mr. Harris was a member of a family which lived at Diamond Springs a number of years ago and that his mother is a sister of Mrs. harles Marsh, of this city. This would make the deceased a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh.

Supervisor William H. Breedlove and Reuel V. Whigam and Wallace M. Ripley were at San Francisco over the weekend attending a meeting of the Sacramento-Tahoe Region commission on the world's fair.

Pilot Hill Teacher's Mother Summoned

A native of Grass Valley, she was the wife of the late John Hogan, and is survived, in addition to the daughter named, by four other daughters, Marie, Rosina, Agatha and Genevieve, and one son, John and a sister, Elizabeth Rogers. The body is in the care of the Carew and English Chapel, Masonic and Golden Gate Avenues.

STUDENT BODY HEADS NAMED

Ed Edelman was elected president of the county high school student body at the regular election of officers held on Friday.

Edelman and the other officers chosen will be installed at the annual Senior Assembly, to be held during the last week of the school year.

James Holt was elected vice-president and Wilma Schroth was chosen secretary.

Other officers elected include James Henderson, commissioner of finance; Martin "Bud" Allen, commissioner of publicity; and Mary Edna Henderson, commisisoner of entertainment.

The pre-election period was marked by a heated campaign in behalf of the various candidates, some of whom had their student campaign managers to assist them in rounding up the votes.

SRA Policies Under Fire

Assembly Expected To Vote $4,050,000 For Relief Until June 30

SACRAMENTO. (UP)—Aware that unemployment relief funds will be exhausted in a day or two, the assembly was ready today for critical discussion of SRA policies but almost certain passage of a request for $4,050,000 to maintain dole checks until June 30, end of the fiscal year.

The administration demand for more relief money was set as a special order of assembly business at 3:30 p. m. The request for the $4,050,000 was made earlier in the session but delayed to observe the changing relief picture and determine actual needs.

Demands were being heard that the legislature speed its machinery to avoid being held in Sacramento much past the May 20 deadline when paychecks stop. An assembly coalition was ready to urge nightly sessions to help unclog a crowded calendar and predictions were made that drastic measures were necessary to avoid prolonging the session past June 1.

LOTUS CONSTABLE LOSES CAR, PURSE AND SHOES TO HITCH HIKER

Constable Charles Hines of Lotus, El Dorado County, told the police here that even hitchhikers are slickers in the city, and that one took him in for plenty, says a press dispatch from Oakland dated May 6th.

It seems that Constable Hines gassed up his pickup truck, packed up his clothes and lit ont from Lotus to spend a few days at the Golden Gate Exposition.

Everything was fine until he picked up a personable young hitchhiker at the Carquinez Bridge. The youth was so personable, in fact, that Constable Hines said he became quite attached to him.

They went to an Oakland hotel, where the stranger registered as "Monsieur Lattier of Seattle."

Constable Hines lay on the bed for a few winks. When he woke up the monsieur was gone. So was Constable Hines' wallet with $85, his shoes, his extra colthing and his truck.

COUGARS TRIM ELK GROVE, WIN BI-COUNTY TITLE

Locals Come From Behind With Three-Run Rally In Seventh, To Claim Victory, 4 to 3; Meet New Rivals Friday, Probably Here

El Dorado County high school added the Sacramento County League championship to their Mother Lode League honors on Friday afternoon when they defeated the Elk Groge high school nine 4 to 3 in an intersectional game played at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park

On Friday next, the Cougars continue their play toward the Northern California championship meeting the winner of a game which will be played Tuesday between the Sacramento City high school and Clarksburg.

Sacramento, champions in the Sacramento-San Joaquin league, defeated Roseville 11 to 1 Friday to Claim the Placer-Nevada championship, too.

It is consadered more than likely that Sacramento may beat Clarksburg. This game will be played at Sacramento, as was their game with Roseville, and the circumstance that Sacramento has two games at home while the Cougars have had only one leads Cougar supporters to hope that the Sacramento-Cougar game may be scheduled at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park. In any event, it is a certainty the game will be next Friday afternoon.

The Cougars took a one-run lead in the first inning with Elk Grove when Barrett picked on one of Casieri's offerings and slammed it for four bases. But the advatage did not stand for long, for in their half of the second, the visitors made it 2 to 1 when Dote picked on one of Schroth's offerings for a home run, to score Rav ahead of him.

That ended the scoring until the fifth, when Elk Grove made it 3 to 1 with Cassieri walking. Tsukamoto was hit by a pitched ball and Derhein sacrificer, Cassieri taking third to score on Veilova's fly to right, after which Tsukamoto found himself in trouble and was thrown out

BUDGET CUTS USUAL THING

Secretary Of State's Office Shows Schedule Is always Amended

By A. G. THURMAN
Assemblyman, Sixth District

SACRAMENTO — The budget, over which so much discussion has been heard both pro and con was last week sent to the Senate by the lower house with some 64 votes, ten more than the necessary fifty-four. The budget is now the Senate's problem and it appears that that body will cut a considerable amount from it in addition to the eight and a half millions cut by the lower house.

In connection with the budget it may interest the readers of this newspaper to know that according to the Secretary of State's office, no budget bill has ever been passed without having been amended. And the same source informs us that no budget bill has ever been passed by a mere majority vote. So it appears that this legislature is no different from any other in that the budget has been reduced from its original figure.

This week a number of important bills will be up for consideration in the lower house, among them a wages and hour bill introduced by Assemblyman Sam Yorty. Inasmuch as there is some opposition to this bill it is certain to take up considerable time in debate.

The flag salute bill which passed the lower house by a vote of 43 to 33 last week will also come up for reconsideration during the week. Your assemblyman reversed his stand on this bill and gave it an aye vote. Although we are still of the opinion that you can't legislate patriotism, when "left wingers" attacked the bill in a manner we thought most unpatriotic we formed the opinion that a little flag saluting might be a good thing. In the debate we also learned that members of a certain religious sect who had written the Legislature letters opposing the bill, did not believe in voting and did not register.

Suspect In Dual Murder Jailed

Sheriff Nabs Arizona Youth As He Walks From Morning Church Service

KNOXVILLE, TENN. (UP) Robert M. Burgunder, Jr., 22, son of a wealthly and cultured family who learned about crime while his father was a prosecuting attorney, will be returned to Arizona today to be charged with two murders.

He is charged with murdering two men, Jack Peterson, 35, and Ellis M. Kourny, 24, near Phoenix April 30, for a new automobile and a few dollars.

Their bodies were found in the desert near Phoenix last week. Both had been bound, then shot.

Burgunder attended Sunday school in Johnson City, Tenn., yesterday morning and when he walked out of the church, the Sheriff grabbed him. He had arrived in the Tennessee mountain town the day before driving an automobile since identified as that of Peterson and Koury. He took a room in a Townsman's house, saying he intended entering the state teachers college there.

The house he had chosen was only a few doors from the home of Mayor Marion Sell of Johnson City. He noticed the Arizona license tag on Burgunder's car, and having read of the Arizona murders in a newspaper, called the sheriff.

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

We are apt to take the Spanish and Indian names of our cities and towns so much for granted that we never give them a thought until some curious Easterner comes along and wants to know what such and such a name means. We found a helpful book "Spanish and Indian Place Names of California," by Mrs. Sanchez. Mrs. Sanchez, by the way, was a sister-in-law of Robert Louis Stevenson. She died in Oakland four years ago.

May we refresh your memory about the meaning of some of the California names? Mrs. Sanchez devotes a page and a half to El Dorado (the gilded man). The Indians of Peru pointed out to the Spaniards a land of fabulous riches in which the king, El Dorado, had his body covered with gold dust each morning by means of odorous resin. In time El Dorado was applied to places where gold was thought to be plentiful. A companion of the adventurer Pizarro wrote a fictitious account of an El Dorado in South America "a region of genial clime and never-fading verdure, abounding in gold and precious stones, where wine gushed forth from never ceasing springs, wheat fields grew ready-baked loaves of bread, birds already roasted grew among the trees and nature was filled with harmony and sweetness." Chamber of Commerce, please note.

The American river was first known as El Rio de los Americanos by the Spaniards from the presence of a company of Western trappers. Vallejo was named for General Mariano Vallejo (Vah-YAY-hoh) who was born at Monterey in 1808. Vallejo was the founder of Sonoma (big nose valley). Benicia was named for the General's wife, Amador literally means lover but in the case of our neighboring county, the name belonged to Don Pedro Amador a soldier of fortune in the Spanish army who came to California in 1771.

Consumne is a word of Indian derivation which means salmon. Camino is a main road or highway. Camino Real was the Royal Road or the King's Highway. It was applied to the route followed by the Franciscan monks when visiting the 21 missions, extending from San Diego to Sonoma.

Berkeley, neither Spanish nor Indian, was named for George Berkeley, Bishop of Cloyne who projected the first American University. The name Calistoga was invented by Samuel Brennan, a pioneer before the discovery of gold. It is a combination of California and Saratoga. Calaveras means skulls. Carquinez, crab and Cazadero, hunting place. Chico means small. Fresno means ash tree. Los Gatos, the cats, from the wild cats that infested the nearby canyon; Los Banos means the baths and Los Altos the heights. Gaviota is a sea gull. El Cerrito a little hill.

Point Loma is hill point; Loma Prieta, dark hill; Loma Linda, beautiful hill; Manzanita is little apple; Maricopa, the bean people; Mariposa, butterfly. Milpitas means little patches of corn. Monterey is hill of the king, and Del Monte, of the mountain. Nevada means snowy. Oro Fino (Siskiyou county) is fine gold and Oroville, gold town. Palo Alto is high tree or pole. Pino Blanco is white pine. Pino Grande, big pine. Salinas means salt marshes.

The Sans and Santas, as you know, mean saint. San Jose is St. Joseph; Santa Cruz, holy cross; San Ramon is St. Raymond; Santa Fe, Holy faith; San Carlos, St. Charles; and San Diego, St. James. San Luis Obispo is St. Louis the Bishop, and San Luis Rey, is St. Louis the King. San Juan is St. John, San Mateo, St. Matthew; San Pablo, St. Paul, and Tia Juana, Aunt Jane or Joan.

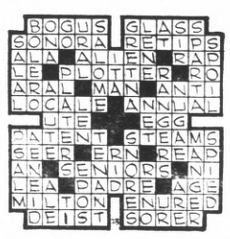

Matilija is Indian for flower of the gods and the flower is the queen or our California wild flowers. Sausalito is a little willow grove; Mt. Diablo, the devil's mountain, Paso Robles, the path of oaks. Ventura means fortune; Verano, summer, and Verde, green. Bella Vista is beautiful view; Buena Vista, good view, and Chula Vista charming view. Los Angeles (the angels) was named for the mission Our Lady, Queen of the Angels.

In 1844 Fremont called the Golden Gate "Crysoplyas" from two Greek words "chrysos" gold and "pyle" gate, because it was the entrance to the land of gold. The Indians called it Yulupa "the place where the sun plunges into the sea." Sacramento was named by the Spaniards in honor of the Holy Sacrament. Yerba Buena was the good herb.

For people who will not vote to tell their legislators how to vote on legislation appears to be most inconsistent. And for a religious sect to oppose a salute to the very flag that gives them religious freedom and protection also appears inconsistent. Just now such a sect exists in Russia, Germany or Italy.

Senator Powers' bill which would separate the mining department from the bureau of Natural Resources, thereby creating a separate department of mines and mining will be given its second hearing in the assembly committee this week. The bill has run into some opposition in the assembly committee.

Several labor bills, some of which if passed would affect the rural area are still on the assembly calendar including one which would prohibit a county from passing an anti-picketing ordinance. This particular bill, A. B. 104, would prevent even a sheriff or police officer from interfering with picketing.

Last week your assemblyman led the fight against a "newsboy bill" which would place the newsboys under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education and would force them to pay a 25 cent fee for a state license to sell newspapers or magazines. The bill was just another attempt at regimentation. The writer who started out in life at the age of 12 years selling newspapers was happy to oppose the bill. During the debate it appeared that about 70 per cent of the Assemblymen had started out in life as newsboys. The bill was defeated by a vote of 54 to 15.

Fred Hosking Rites Monday

was later graduated from the engineering school of the University of Nevada at Reno and immediately afterward entered upon employment in this county with the Western States Gas & Electric Company in an engineering capacity.

Much of the development of physical properties in connection with the production of electric power in the area east of Placerville embodies engineering work done by Mr. Hosking.

Following his service with the Western States Company, Mr. Hosking was employed in an engineering capacity for a short period with the Pacific Gas & Electric Company and eleven years ago became engineer for the El Dorado Irrigation District.

Although he had always been interested in civic affairs, Mr. Hosking had limited his participation to that of a private citizen until 1936 when, in May of that year, he consented to accept an appointment to the Placerville City Council to fill an existing vacancy.

It had been his intention to leave the council at the expiration of his appointive term but he was persuaded to become a candidate for re-election and at the election a year ago was named a councilman for a four year term. Out of a field of eight candidates in the election, Mr. Hosking received more votes than any other candidate and polled 374 votes out of the 706 votes cast.

During his service as a councilman, he had been in charge of the city water department where his special qualifications have proved invaluable to the municipality.

In his connection also with the irrigation district, Mr. Hosking has proved a valuable man because of his knowledge of engineering and his intimate acquaintance with water problems of the county, and his thorough appreciation of the problems of the water users of the district.

Mr. Hosking is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Davey Hosking, and by one brother and one sister, who are, Dr. Richard Hosking, of San Francisco and El Dorado; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hippach, of Hunting Park.

William Penn's Manor, Erected In 1683, May Be Restored Soon

WILLIAM PENN's manor, Pennsbury, built by the founder of Pennsylvania more than 250 years ago, may soon be restored on its original site near Bristol, Pa., under plans of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission.

The first of the buildings erected at Pennsbury on orders of Penn, and the one which survived longest, was his brew-house. The great Quaker considered beer a beverage of moderation, and did much to encourage its use among the colonists to offset intemperance and excess in the use of strong liquor.

Penn's brew-house in 1884.

To this end, he followed the lead of other American colonial leaders and, shortly after his arrival, established a brew-house, the product of which became famous for its quality. Other parts of the brew-house were used as a bakery and laundry.

J. Thomas Scharf and Thompson Westcott reported in their "History of Philadelphia" that the last of the manor buildings—the brew-house—was still standing in 1884. They published a drawing of it at the time. Old-time drawings of the manor are in existence and architects have been assigned the duty of preparing plans of all the old buildings. All that remains now is the brew-house foundation and the excavation for its cellar.

William Penn encouraged brewing in Pennsylvania from the time of his arrival in 1682. He built his brewery in the next year and brewed not only for his own household, but also for commercial use. Evidently he regarded himself an able brewer, for a historian wrote of him: "He was a great lover of beer and accustomed to praise his own brewing."

One of his acts, in his capacity as Proprietary of Pennsylvania, was to fix a price for beer at retail, and to prescribe its inclusion in all tavern meals, as set forth in Section 37 of his "Great Law":

"To prevent exaction in public houses, strong beer and ale of barley malt shall be sold for not above two pennies per Winchester quart, molasses beer one penny . . . all ordinaries must be licensed by the Governor, and, to insure reasonable accommodations, travelers must not be charged more than sixpence per head for each meal, including meats and small beer."

"JESSE JAMES" CLOSES TONIGHT ON SCREEN AT EMPIRE

The long-awaited Darryl F. Zanuck production, "Jesse James," 20th Century-Fox Technicolor epic which was two years in the making, opened at the Empire theater and will conclude tonight.

Although Hollywood has frequently spent as much as two years in producing a movie, never before have the fruits of their labor been so apparent as they are in "Jesse James." The performance of Tyrone Power in the title role is one of the outstanding acting contributions of the year. Other brilliant characterizations are presented by Henry Fonda in the role of Frank James, and Nancy Kelly as Zerelda, Jesse's wife.

80 PER CENT OF GROWERS IN FAVOR OF FEDERAL MARKET AGREEMENT

More than eighty per cent of the growers voting in the recent referendum favored the tentatively-approved Federal marketing agreement for fresh California Bartlett pears, plums and Elberta peaches.

This announcement was made today by E. L. Markell, Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in San Francisco.

The vote cast by growers represents approximately two-thirds of the total volume of the three fruits marketed interstate for fresh consumption, Markell estimated.

Preliminary official tabulations numbers show an eighty-three per cent favorable vote by plum growers, an eighty-nine per cent favorable vote of Bartlett pear growers, and an eighty-six per cent favorable vote by Eberta peach growers.

The vote by volume was over tighty-five per cent favorable on plums, eighty-seven per cent favorable on Bartlett pears and eighty-two per cent favorable on Elberta peaches.

Final results of the referendum, including all ballots, are being forwarded to the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., for his action.

In addition to a two-thirds favorable grower vote, a sign-up of shippers representing 50 per cent of the volume of fruit is required before the marketing agreement and order can be given final approval by the Secretary of Agriculture.

RELIEF OFFICE REDUCES HOURS TO TUESDAY OF EACH WEEK

The local office of the State Relief Administration in the Welfare Building will hereafter be open on Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Due to a decreasing number of applications for relief and the numbers of families leaving the relief rolls for WPA and private employment, it is felt that office hours one day a week will adequately serve the community.

Relief checks will still be issued, however, on the 13th and 28th of each month, from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. at the Placerville office, and from 11 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. at Camino.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrold Keenan, of San Francisco, and friends, Mr. Lane and Miss Carlson, were here Sunday visiting the former's cousin, Mrs. Edwin F. Smith and family.

THREAT to Gas Tax Funds

The motoring public builds and supports all highways and bridges, whether publicly or privately owned. It may be through the payment of tolls or it may be through the payment of gasoline tax. And because of certain questions that are being currently asked, and certain proposals are being made which would affect the future of the Carquinez and Antioch Bridges, this statement of policy is being made to the motoring public.

Sixteen years ago Contra Costa County granted, and the state legislature ratified, twenty-five year franchises for the construction of these bridges. Relying on those franchises, over ten million dollars was invested by local citizens and spent in construction. To date there has been returned to these investors slightly over one million dollars, although taxes paid have amounted to more than $1,800,000.

The State Must Decide

The owners of these bridges prefer to keep them for the remaining eight and one-half years of the franchises and then turn them over to the public absolutely free of either purchase price or tolls. Nevertheless, the company recognizes that the state has the right to acquire, at a fair valuation, any property which it deems necessary in furtherance of public policy. Whether or not this should be done is a straight business proposition which the state alone has the right to decide.

The problem is, whether it is cheaper to let the bridges remain in private ownership for 8½ years or spend millions in their acquisition. There are three methods open to the state to acquire these bridges:

1. It can negotiate with the owners. This the owners have repeatedly offered to do and the offer still remains open.
2. It can require a valuation to be fixed by the Railroad Commission which must be accepted by the owners.
3. It can condemn the bridges at a value fixed by the Superior Court.

These bridges can be purchased or new bridges can be constructed without the use of one penny of gas tax funds under the Toll Bridge Authority Act, which provides for self-liquidating revenue bonds.

Funds Would Be Diverted

Now, however, it is proposed by Assembly Bills 2665 and 2666 not to buy the bridges, not to even construct competing bridges under the Toll Bridge Authority Act, but rather to divert SIX to TEN MILLION DOLLARS OF GAS TAX MONEY from badly needed Northern California projects in order to erect new bridges without any requirement that the tolls shall be adequate to repay these funds. Also, the bills permit the purchase of ferries WITHOUT LIMIT AS TO PRICE to establish competing ferry lines.

And the Highway Commission which, under existing laws, has control of the allocation of gas tax funds, has no power to veto this diversion.

If California wishes to own these toll bridges, let her buy them at a fair valuation, which would be far less than the cost of building new bridges. But let us not advertise to the world that private capital legally invested in this state, and relying on the validity of public franchises, is to be destroyed by the state itself.

Andrew Smith Hit By Car In Placerville

Andrew Smith, of Hank's Exchange, was a patient at Placerville Sanitorium Monday following being hit by a car on Main Street in Placerville shortly after midnight Sunday morning.

The machine, according to city officers, was driven by C. Thompson, of Lake Valley.

Mr. Smith's hurts are described as consisting chiefly of cuts, bruises and some shock.

Steve Erm has returned from a vacation and Gordon McKinnon, who has been taking his place at the Blue Bell Coffee Shop, has returned to Monterey.

Here's a jolly game for your next party; it is called Balloon Bowling Ball: At one end of the room set up ten toss-up balloons in the same manner as the ten pins are placed in regular bowling games. Two teams can be selected of one or more players. The teams line up at the other end of the room. One at a time each player rolls an 8 inch rubber ball across the floor and endeavors to knock over as many as possible of the ten toss-up balloons. Each balloon knocked over counts one point. The team scoring 50 points first, wins.

Stewart Says—

State Tariffs Make Muddle For Industries

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

One American tendency of today is in the direction of splitting our states up into a lot of economically independent principalities. Another tendency is toward such a concentration of political power in Washington as to knock state rights into a cocked hat. Paradoxically these two tendencies don't exactly conflict. It looks as if economic over-localization and political over-centralization might be accomplished collaterally. The states are erecting protective tariff walls against one another. At the same time each state is demanding federal money, for its purely internal needs, at a rate which promises to make it wholly dependent for its own support upon Uncle Sam's general government; that is to say, incapable of carrying on except with financial grants from Capitol Hill in the District of Columbia.

Sumners

This situation, somewhat belatedly, is beginning to worry quite a few of our national legislators and several of our governors, too. They're starting to talk about it. It's getting advertised.

Interstate Tariffs

A state can't constitutionally put up a protective tariff wall against other states, of course.

But it doesn't call its tariff wall a tariff wall.

For example, Florida produces a deal of cement. It wanted to exclude cement from rival states. So it passed a law subjecting incoming cement to tests, which were made so expensive that the incoming stuff even though it passed muster, couldn't compete with Florida's product.

The United States Supreme Coprt recently ruled against that law, saying that a tariff was what it really amounted to. However, there are plenty of similar tariffs that haven't yet been ruled unconstitutional. Illustratively there are laws which keep western dairy products out of the eastern markets under sanitary regulations which the westerners are unable to comply with, however excellent their goods. A fearful row is raging over these rules in Congress now. There are "use taxes" on many commodities. There are virtually prohibitive regulations concerning auto-trucks in inter-state operation. There are "ports of entry" at state lines.

It's an internal tariff system, that's all. The Conference of Governors so recognizes it, but only half-heartedly, because each governor has to be mindful of sentiment within his own state.

President Roosevelt made a speech the other day, in which he suggested that George Washington found himself in duty bound to accept the presidency of the whole United States (probably much against his inclination) to prevent the individual states from splitting into a crew of warring peoples, like the little Balkans. Many folks contended that he was providing himself, in advance, with an excuse for a third term. Yet maybe, certain critics remark, he had in mind conditions of the sort we confront now.

But Federal Money?

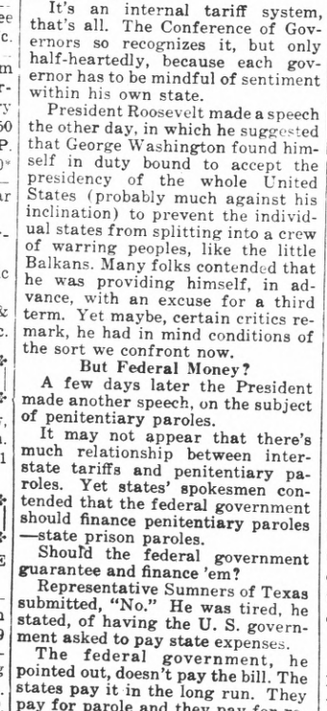

A few days later the President made another speech, on the subject of penitentiary paroles.

It may not appear that there's much relationship between interstate tariffs and penitentiary paroles. Yet states' spokesmen contended that the federal government should finance penitentiary paroles —state prison paroles.

Should the federal government guarantee and finance 'em?

Representative Sumners of Texas submitted, "No." He was tired, he stated, of having the U. S. government asked to pay state expenses.

The federal government, he pointed out, doesn't pay the bill. The states pay it in the long run. They pay for parole and they pay for relief, and they pay for all that Congress votes.

Cougars Beat Elk Grove

between second and third.

Two runs behind, the Cougars were unable to do anything about it until the seventh, when Gibbs was an infield out and J. Schroth walked.

Del Carlo singled to put Schroth on second and B. Schroth fanned for the second out and on a poor throw to first, J. Schroth went to third and Del Carlo to second.

Bobby Boggs hit to score J. Schroth and Del Carlo to tie the count at 3-all and then Boggs stole second from which he ambled home with what proved to be the winning run when Edelman singled. Barrett fanned to close the inning.

The Cougars were up against a real baseball team as was shown in the first inning when Tsukamoto singled and was safe at third on a play which resulted from Derhein's sacrifice attempt. Derhein lived, too. At this juncture, Tsukamoto and Derhein tried a double steal and the Cougars caught both of them, running down Derhein between first and second in time to catch Tsukamoto as he slid into the plate.
